Fiscal Impact Summary

The maximum expenditure impact to local school districts would be $182,500 to purchase one kit for every high school in South Carolina. There is no expenditure impact to the General Fund, Federal Funds, or Other Funds.

Explanation of Fiscal Impact

Explanation of the Amendment by the House on March 16, 2016

State Expenditure

Instead of requiring instruction in the use of an automated external defibrillator (AED), the amendment requires students be given an awareness in the use of an AED. The amendment also allows virtual schools to administer the instruction virtually rather than in-person.

The expenditure impact remains unchanged from the bill as filed.

Explanation of the Bill Filed December 18, 2014

State Expenditure

The bill amends Section 59-32-30 to provide that each student must receive instruction in cardiopulmonary resuscitation at least once during grades nine through twelve. School districts must comply no later than the 2017-2018 school year.

The State Department of Education indicates there is no expenditure impact to the General Fund, Federal Funds, or Other Funds.

Local Expenditure

School districts can choose to purchase CPR in Schools training kits which include manikins, lesson plans, and accessories for $600 each. At most, if every high school purchased a kit at $600 each, the expenditure impact would be $182,400. However, school districts can also partner with local agencies, fire departments, or hospitals in order to lower their costs or districts can rotate manikins among schools. In addition, several school districts have received grant funding to purchase manikins for their districts.
